Dear Friends,

For the past 25 years I've had the best library job in the state of Michigan and beyond. It's a director's dream to manage a library in a growing family community that values and supports the library and appreciates new technology and resources. I've also had the pleasure of working with a library family made up of an awesome staff, wonderful Friends of the Library, a fabulous core of volunteers and a supportive Board. It has truly been a charmed career.

When the library resided on the third floor of Township Hall, no one could have predicted the way it would change, and I've thoroughly enjoyed overseeing its evolution. From the building expansions, the explosion of the Internet, the myriad electronic resources, and the library as technology trainer, there has been no time for boredom. With Flickr, Facebook, Second Life and the other social networking advances yet to come, it looks like change will continue to be the only constant. It will be fun to watch from the sidelines.

It's never easy to leave a job you love but it has to happen sometime. I move on to the next chapter in my life knowing that the library is in excellent hands with a staff committed to serving the Canton community with a standard of excellence. I want to thank them and all of you for a fabulous 25 years.

Introducing Our New Director

Eva Davis is the new director of the Canton Public Library. Ms. Davis held positions as the Associate Director for Public Services at the Ann Arbor District Library and Teen Services Librarian at the Plymouth District Library. She is a graduate of Canton High School and holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan School of Information. Stop in and welcome her.

Everyone's Reading 2008

This year's Everyone's Reading selection is a mystery – literally.

It's The Beekeeper's Apprentice, the first book in the popular Mary Russell series and an Agatha Award Best Novel Nominee, written by NY Times bestselling author Laurie R. King. Look for Everyone's Reading programs on page 3 and in upcoming issues of Connections.

Everyone's Reading is a community-wide reading program to promote dialogue through the shared experience of reading and discussing the same book. Get a copy of The Beekeeper's Apprentice at the library and join in the conversation.

Tap In to Your Community @ Your Library

Canton has grown by leaps and bounds but there's one place that's kept current with everything that's going on in our community – the Canton Public Library. Look for the Smart Card to find ways the library can help you keep pace with our ever-changing neighborhood.

Coffee Table Books to Beautify Your Table

Fine decorating magazines sometimes feature a beautiful book displayed on an end table or coffee table to add a feeling of warmth and personality to a home. It looks fabulous but it can be very pricey. Our collection of oversize coffee table-worthy books that you can check out to grace your home on a temporary basis. When it's due back, browse through our collection and pick out a new one.

Everything Canton Has Canton Covered

Everything Canton is a very unique collection of community information. The online version, www.everythingcanton.org, is a searchable source of local information with listings on everything from Aid and Assistance to Shopping and Travel. You can search for childcare, a handyman, a restaurant or a store. Find goods and services from 14 different categories, all right here in the Canton community. The in-library kiosk allows you to browse through brochures and information provided by local businesses.

Save time and money by using local services. It's easy to find them with Everything Canton. If you want to list your business with Everything Canton, fill out the online information form or stop in the library and request one.

Check Out a Museum @ Your Library

The Museum Adventure Pass program continues, providing free passes to 25 museums and cultural attractions for Canton Public Library cardholders. Visit www.detroitadventurepass.org for more information on exploring these wonderful local attractions, for free.

Start an Online Conversation

A web log, or blog for short, is just a new way of sharing thoughts and ideas on the World Wide Web. The Canton Public Library started a blog last summer with regular posts by library staff and patrons on a wide variety of topics. Recent posts include a discussion of new music, book and movie reviews, environmental issues and school and learning topics. We invite you to join in the conversation about things in the Canton community that are important to you at www.cantonpl.org/blog/.

Online Reference Provides Healthy Amount of Information

Are you participating in the Canton Township 100 Days to Health program? Then you will be especially interested in the library's Health Subject Page online at www.cantonpl.org/subjects/health/. It features librarian-selected websites, magazines, books and more on health issues including alternative medicine and exercise, plus specific fitness topics, like child and teen health, nutrition and yoga.

You can still sign up for the 100 Days to Health program at the Summit on the Park. Call 734-394-5460 for more information.

New Blog — Just for Teens

The teen blog is a place for teens to find out what is going on at the library and in the community. It is updated regularly with information intended just for our teen patrons. We include library, community and national events as well as book reviews, discussion topics and much more. Teens are welcome to start their own topic threads or comment on any of the current threads. Check out the teen blog at: <http://cantonpubliclibrary.blogspot.com/>. There is also a link at the bottom of the teen page at www.cantonpl.org/ya.

Tweens Rule This Space

The Tween Scene is located in the back of the Children's Library and offers an environment created just for 5th and 6th graders. Not only is this a place to find books that tweens will enjoy, but also a place for the tweens to use computers that are intended solely for their needs. A reference librarian is on hand to assist with homework questions, reader's advisory, or even to help with computer problems. If you are a parent of a 5th or 6th grader, or a tween yourself, stop by the Tween Scene and see what a great space we have to offer.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Collection

On January 21, the nation will remember one of its most important civil rights leaders with a national holiday. Martin Luther King, Jr. was one of the most influential and respected civil rights leaders of the 1950s and 1960s. Dr. King inspired the world and helped bring about laws that ensure fairness and equality for all Americans.

The library has a variety of materials to read in preparation for this important day. Also, the library will have a variety of worksheets, crossword puzzles and other fun materials available to help you celebrate this holiday.

Here are just a few of the many books and videos about Dr. King you can find in the Children's Library.

- Martin Luther King, Jr.: Preacher, Freedom Fighter, Peacemaker* by Pamela Hill
- Dreams: The Story of Martin Luther King, Jr.* by Peter Murray
- My Brother Martin: A Sister Remembers* by Christine King Farris
- Martin Luther King, Jr., Day* by Robin Nelson
- Our Friend Martin* (video)
- Martin Luther King, Jr., Day* (video)

Keep Current @ Your Library

The Current Events Cove on the Children's Department website will keep you up to date with all kinds of things for kids. View our children's programs, find Canton-area activities for kids, celebrate an author's birthday or find other fun things to explore. It's on the web at www.cantonpl.org/kids/current.html.
