

National Library Week "It was a dark and stormy night" Worst Writing Contest 2013

We are celebrating National Library Week at the Canton Public Library! All ages and resident/nonresident patrons are eligible to participate. The goal is to create a funny, original, unpublished opening sentence to the worst imaginary novel ever written. CPL's "It was a Dark and Stormy Night" bad-writing contest will receive entries during National Library Week, beginning 9:00 AM April 14 through 9:00 PM April 20. One winner will be selected. The rules are simple: submit your entry (inappropriate situations or language will be disqualified) in-person at the Adult Help Desk with your name and contact information. The winner will be contacted by April 30 and have a week to claim their prize. Good luck to all our participants!
